Las Vegas became a city in 1905. Gambling was legalized in Nevada in 1911, and after World War II, Las Vegas became the epicenter of gambling, showgirls, relaxation and entertainment.

Now, a little over a century since its founding, the city has been completely transformed, with an ever-changing skyline. Resorts and attractions continue to be bigger, brighter, bolder and more interesting. Over 39 million people visit Las Vegas each year, home of fifteen of the world's twenty largest hotels. And, there's a combination of adult entertainment and family-oriented attractions, so what's stopping you from experiencing the Las Vegas vacation allure?
