

Myrtle Beach, SC March Activities

There's more to life in Myrtle Beach in March than just golf (although that is the main draw to the area in the cooler months). On March 1st, the 28th annual Doll Show & Sale is held at the Convention Center. The show is sponsored by the Coastal Doll Collector's Club of South Carolina. Exhibited will be dolls, accessories, doll-making supplies and fabrics. So while he's golfing, you can go to the doll show.

A little later than the one in New Orleans, Myrtle Beach nevertheless holds its Mardi Gras festival including a parade, Cajun food fest and more at the Coastal Federal Field and Broadway At The Beach.

Later in the month, early to mid March, premier restaurants in the Myrtle Beach area (there are many) will provide samples, along with beer, wine and live entertainment as well as an array of kid's activities at this annual charity event for the Risen Christ School at Barefoot Landing, just north of the Beach proper.

Rounding out the upcoming month is the National Shag Dance

Championship Finals with competitors from all across the U.S. Then comes the St. Patrick's Day Festival that begins with a parade at 9AM at the top of Main Street, followed by a festival with food, entertainment, children's activities and more.

And At the end of March, over 100 artists, including local art school students as well as area professionals, will display their work throughout the 2001 Nightclub at this fundraiser sponsored by Global Awareness Project (GAP), featuring live music, theatre and dance, and food catered by local restaurants.

It looks like March is a good time for a Rooms101.com travel vacation to Myrtle Beach.
